

- External signal DLT is default high, but goes low when there is an external trigger.
- The internal channel trigger is gated with DLT, and triggers will only latch when DLT is low.